Manager Assumes New Post

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin began his new duties this week.

Austin was sworn in by Town Clerk Irving O. Piper Tuesday morning with members of the board of selectmen looking on.

Austin was appointed by the board a month ago to replace Richard J. Bowen who resigned to accept the City Manager position in Portsmouth, N. H.

The new manager had been serving as executive secretary to the selectmen in Sharon, and has had experience in Williamston and Maine communities.

Tuesday he met briefly with department heads as he began his new duties and spent much of the time getting acquainted with his new surroundings.

He is the town's third manager since the adoption of the manager charter in 1958. He will receive a salary of $18,000 plus local travel expenses of $1,000.

Austin has not as yet moved to Andover but intends to as soon as possible.

Record Enrollment As Classes Resume

A record enrollment of over 5,900 was expected as public schools resumed classes this morning.

Supt. of Schools Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, beginning his first year in the administrative post, has been meeting with teachers and administrators for the past two days in preparation for the beginning of another school year.

The expected enrollment, based on registrations to date, represents an increase of over 400 from opening day a year ago.

To accommodate the increased student population and relieve overcrowding in some schools, there have been some transfers from the Central school to the South and Bancroft schools.

Teachers returned to their classrooms Tuesday to prepare for the new year. A general staff meeting was held in the early afternoon and a meeting for all the new staff members followed.

Most all positions are filled, Dr. Seifert said. Exceptions include the need for an industrial arts teacher, a vacancy expected to be filled shortly.

Among resignations received at a meeting of the school committee last week, was that of Walter Perkins, principal of the South school. Perkins was appointed to the post a year ago, replacing Earle Simon who was named principal of the Bancroft school.

Dr. Seifert said that the vacancy would be filled as soon as possible and that screening of candidates is currently underway.

This will be the first full year of operation for the Bancroft school. The new building is adapted to the open classroom, or progressive education system. It opened during the second part of the school year last year.

The school committee also struck a first last week when it awarded a school bus contract to Charles Kent of North Andover. The committee has had a policy for years of having Andover residents as owner and operator of school buses.

Kent was named following receipt of a single bid for the secondary school route in the River Road, North Street area. He has operated a school bus in North Andover for several years.

Parents of kindergarten children who will be taking school buses will be notified by the school department of the bus routes as soon as registrations are completed and the morning and afternoon scheduled for the youngsters established.

There were several personnel changes in the schools at last week's school committee meeting, including the election of 14 new teachers to the system.

Mina B. Noyes, a grade 5 instructor, and Alice L. Carlton, librarian, both at the Central School, notified the board of their retirement.

Paula M. Forrest, grade 4, Bancroft School; Iris L. Cove, health instructor, West Junior High School; instructor and Loraine Hajjar, grade 4, South School, all resigned to accept jobs in other areas.

Elected as biology teacher at the high school level was Mrs. Janet Luiz, North Andover, a 1964 graduate of Presbyterian College of South Carolina with 5 years teaching experience.

Mrs. Ruth Adamsky, Andover, a mathematics teacher, will teach in the East Junior High School, Allan J. Minkinen, Fitchburg, will teach music in the High School and East Junior High.

Elected to the elementary level were Miss Paula M. Berti, Cambridge; Mrs. Claire F. Bradley, North Andover; Miss Maria L. Bueckner, Brighton; Miss Barbara M. Carmichael, Wampanoag, N.J.; Miss Patricia M. Crowley, Reading; Mrs. Scharline F. Howell, Andover; Miss Ethelwyn E. Morrison, Peabody; Miss Sue Ann

Books And Baseball Do Mix

The major interest of Miss Frances Bold, new director of Memorial Hall library, is naturally library science. But she has a number of other interests, not the least of which is baseball.

This comes more or less naturally since as a girl in grade school in Newburgh, Indiana, she was so proficient at softball that she was allowed to play on the boys' team.

One of her favorite books is titled "Today's Game," authored by M. P. Quigley, which concerns baseball.

Miss Bold tells an interesting story of an experience some years back when she was librarian in an other community. A teacher sent to her a boy who was not interested in reading and was failing to keep up with others in his class.

Nothing she recommended in the way of reading appealed to the student.

"Do you like baseball?" she asked.

"Of course," came the reply. She quickly produced "Today's Game," and asked the youth to sit down and read it. He was fascinated and took the book home. That was the beginning of his interest in literature which increased by the day. Miss Bold experienced a great feeling of accomplishment.

The new Memorial Hall director came to Andover a month ago today. She likes the town and the library very much, but is concerned with the difficulty children have in reaching the library through Elm Square.

"I can understand why some parents don't want their children to come to the library. Crossing the street is a problem."

Miss Bold came to Andover from the New Bedford Public Library where she was a central figure in a dispute over the city's library facilities.

Born in Evansville, Indiana, she came to the east coast when her father's employment took him to Falls Church, Va.

She graduated from Women's College of the University of Virginia in 1952. Her first experience in library work was in the Falls Church library after which she spent a year working at the Hollins College library in Roanoke, Va.

For the next two years she did graduate work at the University of North Carolina where the subject of her thesis was Robert Burns. She became a collector of the works of Burns and is still collecting them.

Miss Bold was granted a Fulbright Scholarship and went to England where she was associated with the Central School of Arts and Crafts in London, engaged in studies related to the "Conservation and Repair of Books."

While in London, she also worked at the British Museum library and took courses in bibliography at University College, London.

"There was no time for sight-seeing," she says. But she was already familiar with England, Scotland and the Continent as she vacationed there during a previous summer.

Upon her return to the United States she served as branch librarian in the largest branch of the Arlington County, Va., Department of Libraries in Arlington, Va., for seven years.

From there she became director of the Pottstown, Penna., Public library, for three years and then went on to her last previous assignment in New Bedford.

In commenting on the habits of young readers today, Miss Bold says:

"Young people have become more sophisticated in their reading than their parents were."

For herself, she prefers non-fiction or history and biography, but also has a leaning toward

Commenting on problems of his current residence in Sharon, Austin said that he was hopeful that police there would complete their investigation of the shooting at his home soon.

Someone fired shots at not only his home but at the homes of members of the board of selectmen.

Austin said that apparently someone dissatisfied with a decision made by the board had taken the action. Also shot at was the home of the police chief.

Police have been investigating and it is hoped that the probe will be ended soon and the matter cleared up.

Austin has no immediate plans, just getting acquainted and examining local problems in his new post.

He is a registered professional engineer and as such will be called upon to oversee major engineering projects anticipated by the town in the coming years. Projects include a water treatment plant for Haggett's pond and participation in a pollution abatement district with other Greater Lawrence communities.

Insurance Plan Set For Students

Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent of schools, announced that the enrollment for the Student Accident Insurance Plan will be held from Sept. 5, to Sept. 12. Brochures and applications will be distributed to each student for voluntary enrollment.

According to the company, the plan provides coverage up to $10,000, for medical expenses, up to $7,500, for dismemberments, $1,500, for accidental death and up to $500, for teeth injuries.

Interscholastic sports are insured under a separate policy taken out by the school department. They also receive brochures describing this coverage.

Superintendent Seifert emphasizes that the school department takes all possible precautions to prevent injuries and to teach safety, but cannot accept the responsibility of paying the cost of medical and dental expense resulting from school injuries.

If the total medical expenses of a claim are less than $50, the medical expenses are reimbursed regardless of other insurance; if the total medical expenses exceed $50, the plan takes up where other compensable insurance if any, leaves off.

In A Word...

Crisis

When a critically ill person takes a sudden turn for the better and seems to be out of the woods, we generally say that "he has passed the crisis."

This is not exactly a new term, since Hippocrates used it. The Greek word crisis actually meant decision. Thus, when a person reached the point in his illness where a valid decision could be made as to whether he would live or die, that was considered the crisis point.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

by Warren N. Bixby

Do you consider air-conditioning a necessity when you go to look at a new house?

More and more Americans, in every part of the country, are requiring that their houses be air-conditioned.

Air conditioning units don't just operate in summer to cool the air. Nowadays they are apt to be in use the year around. They control moisture, current, purity, and distribution of air, as well as temperature. They are a boon to people with allergies to dust and other airborne impurities. Hay fever and asthma sufferers are much more comfortable in an air-conditioned house.

Life for the home-maker is made easier with air-conditioning, too. It isn't necessary to dust as often. Curtains and slip-covers don't need to be washed or cleaned as frequently. Even the walls keep their freshly painted look much longer.

lieved to be the largest piece of redevelopment undertaken by any local church in England this century - costing something less than a quarter of a million pounds. During the past three years the Carrs Lane Church has run a Counselling Centre - a centre open to the public offering friendship and help to those who are perplexed and lonely, or who want to work out a new approach to life. In the first year 260 cases were dealt with by the Centre.

With the greater possibilities afforded by the new premises which are due to be completed in April, 1970, Mr. Hubbard wishes to see something of the work of the churches in America, more particularly those engaged in urban mission.

Youngsters Hold Fair

On Aug. 27, a "Fun Fair" was held at 3 Henderson Ave. for the benefit of the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. Attractions included fortune telling, pony rides, refreshments, games of chance and skill and a "White Elephant" stand.

Neighborhood young people participating in the fair were: Co-chairmen Andy Burns and Jeffrey

Lewis assisted by Cheryl Foster, Gary Lewis, Bill Denoncourt, Cindi Burns, Leslie Fisher, Madelaine Fisher, and Stephanie Fisher. Nancy Retelle was in charge of pony rides, David Early and David Galbiati helped with games.

A profit of $43.55 was donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The Horseshoe Crab is not really a crab at all -- it's more closely related to spiders, mites, and scorpions. The harmless creature, a "living fossil," has survived 400 million years of evolution with very little change.

Sometimes it's not always easy to figure out how you can look your very best. Although most people are sensitive about their appearance, many people are much more self-conscious than they need to be simply because they let themselves become careless about their grooming. They worry, perhaps subconsciously, about a lot of little things — their nails (which they meant to take care of the night before, but didn't); specks of dandruff (which are there because they didn't brush their hair properly). The first thing any person should do is to make it a habit to keep him or herself perfectly clean at all times; then he or she can forget about himself and relax.

This is essential to looking & feeling your best. Another asset is to have your hair cut properly. Make an app't. at CAPOLO HAIR STYLISTS, 2 Riverina Rd., Shawsheen-Andover. Tel. 475-1639. Open 9-6. Fri 9-8. Air Conditioned. Coloring....Cutting....Permanents....Styling....Hair-pieces.

Mrs. Richard E. Fleming, Jr.

Fleming - Harrison

Miss Marjorie Cushing Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harold Harrison of Andover, was married on Aug. 30 in the Cochran Chapel of Phillips Academy to Richard Elliot Fleming, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elliot Fleming of Chatham, N. J. Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, chaplain emeritus of the academy, performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Log Cabin in the Sanctuary of Phillips Academy.

The bride's father who is a member of the Phillips Academy faculty gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of ivory satin was also her mother's wedding dress. Her full length veil was fashioned from a headpiece with beaded orange blossoms which the groom's mother wore in her wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of daisies and baby's breath. Miss Nancy J. Harrison of Andover was maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids included the bride's other sister, Miss Elizabeth A. Harrison, Miss Phebe T. Miner, and Miss Linda S. Stulgis, all of Andover, Miss Ann B. Bartlett of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Miss Susan L. Reynolds of Wenham. The attendants were identically gowned in dresses of yellow silk worsted. They wore yellow bows in their hair and carried bouquets of daisies.

The bride is a graduate of the Northfield School, Briarcliff College, and recently from the nursing department of Columbia University.

Mrs. Harrison chose a pink coat and dress ensemble of ottoman pique for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Fleming's dress was blue silk and worsted trimmed with chantilly lace.

The groom, whose father is with the International Nickel Company, New York, had Peter P. Smith of Montpelier, Vt. as best man. The ushers were his brothers Douglas M. Fleming and David A. Fleming, Carl Van Duyne, William L. Paternotte, and Robert J. Porter Jr.

The bridegroom, who is a second year medical student at Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, is a graduate of Phillips Academy and Princeton University.

After a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in New York.

Just because he had no family tree many a man has succeeded because he branched out for himself.

Raytheon Group Wins Awards

Two certificates of excellence for its bowling and physical fitness programs were awarded to Raytheon Company's Andover plant by the National Industrial Recreation Association at its recent annual conference in St. Louis. The awards, two of ten presented, signified the Raytheon programs to be the best in their categories in industry in the United States and Canada.

The formal recreation program at the Andover plant is known as the Raytheon Employees Activities Association (REAA). Consisting of a professional coordinator, a volunteer board of directors, and 20 committee chairmen, REAA has more than 250 separate programs covering social, cultural, and recreational activities.

The sports program, using nearby community facilities, has basketball, softball, flag football, trap and skeet, horseshoe leagues, and golf leagues. There are four bowling leagues, each with its own set of officers.

The award-winning fitness program features a "Run for Your Life" program with an incentive system to encourage joggers to reach plateaus ranging from 100 to 1,000 miles.

Prominent among varied REAA social activities are the yearly family picnic, the children's Christmas party, and several vacation trips. Such cultural activities as the West Point cadet glee club concert and the photo and art festival are also on the schedule.

Rounding out REAA activities for some 2,200 members at Andover are discount ticket sales for sport and theatrical events, skiing and flying clubs, employee film programs, and a number of contests and tournaments.

Albert Porter of the Andover plant's industrial relations department represented the company at the award ceremonies.

The Roman Catholic Archdiocesan Confraternity of Christian Doctrine will launch a September Teacher Preparation program beginning the week of Sept. 7.

These programs will be held at central locations throughout the diocese. There will be three, once-a-week, 2 hour sessions 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

These once-a-week, 2 hour sessions, will bring into sharp focus first on an adult level, a clarification of the doctrinal content from the authors' view point; secondly, an unfolding of the doctrine on a particular grade interest transferring the authors' point of view to a child's level of comprehension; and concluding at the third meeting with a session on teaching techniques, classroom management.

No registration fee is required. Parishes outside the immediate vicinity of the teaching locations may wish to make prior arrangements for transportation to these locations from their parish schools in groups.

An article which water, free of fluoride, is presently being presented to town meeting Oct. 6.

In a letter to the town meeting, Miss Catherine Men, 104 Salem St., stated that she had obtained the signatures of 100 residents to have an article in the town meeting.

The proposal would be to have funds in order that water would be available to townspeople.

Her letter reads: Gentlemen:

Thank you for your letter of August 22 about the article to have the water without sodium fluoride. Those who, because of their health, are contraindicated for other reasons, do not want it. We appreciate your position, although your not to sponsor the will try to get 100 signatures to sponsor the article. We anticipate no difficult signatures except the and time is short before the town meeting closes.

The proposed article is being presented by a town official. "If we're going to have the water without sodium fluoride, we're going to have something for the people who are being discriminated against."

Our reading of state statutes for which town officials are responsible suggests an inexpensive, practical way to accomplish the purpose of the proposed article. Clause 40, Section 5 gives the town the right to provide for the drinking water and fountains in the public squares and conservation office group of Andover. It is years ago when we were in drought, that the full of water in the right under our feet everywhere -- and the time of drought.

The thought is, could in addition to the Abbot's fashioned wells with like those in the camp Harold Parker State Park, initial cost and the maintenance, say, four wells in parts of town would, be low, while their water townspeople would be only in this time of emergency for some future, as accessible, sources of good drinking water.

Articles Would Provide Fluoride-Free Water

An article which would provide water, free of fluoride, will apparently be presented to the special town meeting Oct. 6.

In a letter to the board of Selectmen, Miss Catherine A. Stewart, 104 Salem St., stated that sufficient signatures would be obtained to have an article inserted in the warrant.

The proposal would provide funds in order that unfluoridated water would be available to the townspeople.

Her letter reads:

Gentlemen:
Thank you for your letter of August 22 about the proposed article to have the town provide water without sodium fluoride for those who, because this drug is contraindicated for them or for other reason, do not wish to take it. We appreciate your consideration, although your decision was not to sponsor the article. We will try to get 100 signatures to sponsor the article ourselves. We anticipate no difficulty in getting signatures except the time it takes and time is short before the warrant closes.

The proposed article was suggested by a town official who said, "If we're going to discriminate against people, we'd better do something for the people who are being discriminated against."

Our reading of state law on purposes for which towns may appropriate suggests an apparently inexpensive, practical way to accomplish the purpose of the proposed article. Clause 14 of Chapter 40, Section 5 gives, as a purpose for which towns may appropriate, "For necessary and convenient drinking troughs, wells and fountains in the public ways, public squares and commons." A state conservation official told a group of Andover people, some years ago when we were suffering drought, that the ground is full of water in Massachusetts right under our feet practically everywhere -- and this even in time of drought.

The thought is, could we have, in addition to the Abbot well, old-fashioned wells with hand pumps like those in the camping area of Harold Parker State Forest? The initial cost and the maintenance of, say, four wells in different parts of town would, apparently, be low, while their value to the townspeople would be great, not only in this time of stress -- real emergency for some -- but in the future, as accessible, convenient sources of good drinking water.

The proposed article does not, of course, solve the urgent, immediate problem -- the distress of some elderly people who cannot go to the Abbot well. One elderly person, speaking of their disstress -- with safe water taken away and nothing done to restore to them this necessity of life -- said of the Selectmen: "They don't care about us. We're old now. They probably think we've lived long enough. It's the young people they care about." Another elderly person, on another occasion, said almost the same thing.

We believe the town has an obligation to elderly people who cannot take extraordinary measures to protect themselves from the drug in the water. A way has been suggested for the town to provide them with safe water now. When someone from the Water Department goes to the Abbot well (which is at least once every day, we understand), that person could fill some jugs, then take them to the Haven or to the Town Hall or to both places, and those who need the water could pick up the jugs (returning the empty ones later) or fill their own containers from the jugs.

Admittedly not ideal, this arrangement would serve temporarily until the town could, in a better way, restore this common necessity of life -- safe water -- at least to the elderly, who cannot provide it for themselves, now that, by town action, it has been taken away from them.

The cost of this emergency measure would surely be very small, maybe nothing at all.

We ask you, will you order Abbot well water supplied at the Haven or at the Town Hall or at both places right now for the elderly people?

Bold Move

As a new school year approaches, and reflections on an academic year just passed still vividly in mind, it is refreshing to see an institution setting forth firm ground rules with regard to student behavior and dress.

We speak particularly of Phillips Academy which has stipulated that there will be no long hair and no 'abnormal' dress.

In a letter to parents of incoming students, the rules were stipulated, and the academy, in so many words, advised that if the young men objected, they could find some other school to attend.

It was probably a bold move on the part of the academy administration, but one to be admired.

We admire and encourage young people to be progressive and to present new ideas. Within recent years, however, there has been a trend among the young people of the country to protest, often just for the sake of being part of the crowd.

Improper dress, long hair, etc., were all part of the protest movement. Campuses around the country were subjected to riots, building takeovers and just plain improper actions of teen-aged, or young adults, who felt they were being abused or were defiant of discipline.

The warning by Phillips is well-taken. It probably stems from an alumni appeal to keep the school's good tradition — one which was founded many years ago and carries with it an international acclaim.

The academy could well be applying the brakes at a most proper time.

Appreciation of law and order and conformance to the norms of society must be learned and appreciated at an early age.

Phillips Academy, a leader in the educational field, is to be applauded for the courage to stand up and maintain a code of dignity.

Not only will the academy be a better place, but its students and graduates will be better men for having respect for rules and regulations. The learning process is continuous in life, but the lessons learned early, remain firm.

Appreciation

Selectman Robert A. Watters is due for some appreciation for the number of hours he voluntarily manned the office during the interim period prior to Town Manager Maynard Austin assuming his new duties this week.

Watters maintained office hours three days a week and made himself available to the public and to department heads.

This took place from the time former Town Manager Richard J. Bowen left, until this week, when the new manager took over.

The selectmen, as a board, receive minimal compensation. They are designated as a policy making board under the town manager charter.

Watters, who retired from an administrative position last year, was at the town house almost daily to insure that the conduct of the town's business would continue in a proper manner.

He is an elected public official who has given a considerable amount of personal time to the office to which he aspired.

Andover can be proud to have a public servant who will give freely of his time to serve his community.

As Summer Ends

The vacation season came to an end this past week with the usual quietness of a holiday weekend, then the sudden spur of activity on Tuesday.

With the lazy, hazy days of summer now behind, everyone seems to buckle down to the tasks ahead.

For families it is back to the routine of daily work and activities.

To the young people it means back to school.

As classes commence once again, we extend our best wishes to the young scholars.

In this progressive age, a good education is a necessity and a task which requires the utmost from our young people.

Technological advances of the space age means diligence in the pursuit of education.

We hope that today's students will have that diligence necessary to prepare themselves to become tomorrow's leaders of this nation.

Of The Desk

Bruce Campbell, 44 Lowell St., is enrolled as a student at Case Western Reserve Institute of Technology, Cleveland, Ohio.

One of those "bad news" items has been received by Andover residents during the past week.

The tax bills, all reflecting an increase in the annual 'contribution' towards municipal operations, were placed in the mail and should have been received by most all property owners this week.

Joshua Miner, IV, 42 School St., is among the freshmen enrolled at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. He is a graduate of Governor Dummer Academy, Byfield.

Mark Haley and Dale Tomlinson of Andover are among the 50 candidates who reported this week to Head Coach Jim Lentz of the Bowdoin College football team.

Tomlinson was a member of the squad a year ago.

With schools back in session, motorists must be extra careful. Youngsters, particularly during the first few days, can often be errant in walking and riding bicycles to and from school.

Parents should impress upon their youngsters the value of safety and the caution necessary in their daily travels to and from school.

Janice Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey A. Stewart, Shepley St., was on the deans honor list, the second semester of her freshman year at Westbrook Junior College.

Karol Klempa of Andover, daughter of Mrs. Edward Klempa will be one of three daughters of alumna who are in the freshman class at the New England Baptist Hospital School of Nursing. The school begins its 74th year on Sept. 16 with an enrollment of 175 in the three classes.

The Andover Fire Department responded to the following calls between the dates of Aug. 26 and Sept. 1.

Aug. 27 - off Brundrett Ave., brush fire, Sheffield Drive, Robert Henrick, car fire.

The Andover Fire Department Ambulance responded to a total of nine calls during this same period.

AID FUND

The children of Rasmussen Circle ran a carnival for the benefit of the Muscular Dystrophy fund Wednesday, Aug. 27. They sold hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza, and they had games and prizes for all the children and also had pony rides. They collected a total of $218.46 for the fund.

Pollution Aid Is Pledged

Fifteen New England members of the House of Representatives have committed themselves to a floor fight, if necessary, to appropriate a billion dollars for water pollution control this fiscal year. They are willing to support an amendment on the floor to spend the full amount authorized by law for matching funds to build sewage treatment plants.

New England Representatives who have signed up to join the fight against pollution are: Margaret M. Heckler, Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., Torbert H. MacDonald, Harold D. Donohue, Philip J. Philbin, and F. Bradford Morse of Massachusetts; Emilio Q. Daddario, Robert N. Giaimo, Thomas J. Meskill, William L. St. Onge, and Lowell P. Weicker, Jr., of Connecticut; Robert Tiernan and Fernand St. Germain of Rhode Island; and William D. Hathaway and Peter N. Kyros of Maine.

A total of 167 representatives throughout the nation were pledged by August 25 to support the clean water crusade, with only 51 more votes necessary for victory. A majority is 218 votes. The question is expected to come to a vote about September 9.

The Congressional fight for clean water is a result of the wide gap between authorizations (promises) and appropriations (dollars) in the battle against water pollution. Congress has authorized a billion dollars this year to match local outlays for sewage treatment plants. However, the administration requested only $214 million in actual appropriations, in spite of the fact that the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration now has a backlog of $2 1/4 billion in applications for matching funds from cities and towns. Local people are ready, but the federal government has lagged behind in paying its share.

The next step, according to the Citizens Crusade for Clean Water—a coalition of civic, professional, conservation, labor, and consumer groups—is up to the House of Representatives and to the citizens whom they represent. Ted Pankowski, spokesman for the Citizens Crusade for Clean Water, said, "This vote will be a test of whether those who care about the quality of their environment can really influence the people who spend the dollars."

Nine New England Representatives have not yet committed themselves to vote for the full billion. They are: Silvio O. Conte, James A. Burke, Hastings Keith, Edward P. Boland, and John W. McCormack of Massachusetts; John S. Monagan of Connecticut; Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, and Louis C. Wyman and James C. Cleveland of New Hampshire.

Representative John Dingell of Michigan, who led in organizing the House crusade for clean water, said in the middle of August, "We in the House, Democrats and Republicans alike, are doing our part and we've picked up more than 150 pledges from our colleagues. We are only 57 votes away from victory and whether we get them depends on you. If conservation-minded people can't rally to this effort, we might as well fold our tents for a long time to come. There is less than a month for concerned citizens to help us get these 57 votes. You must help."

Labor day was, as are other holidays in this town, very quiet, and the streets had a deserted appearance. The only diversion the people who stayed at home had was the little excitement caused about 6 p.m. by an alarm of fire. In a short time quite a crowd got together and started for the Hill, it being reported that the Brick House was on fire. It was, however, only a little blaze in Mr. Wiggins' carpenter shop near the house and it was extinguished without the aid of the firemen.

Mrs. Frederick C. McCabe

McCabe - Roberts

Miss Merrill Lee Roberts, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley F. Roberts of New Castle, N.H., became the bride of Frederick Charles McCabe, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredric C. McCabe of Lawrence and Little Boar's Head, North Hampton, N.H. Saturday, Aug. 23 at St. John's Church, Portsmouth. The Rev. W. Charles Hodgins performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white roses, gladioli and trailing ivy. Mrs. Emmet Willis was the soloist and Mr. Donald Vaughn, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a high-waisted Victorian lace gown, with ruffled neckline, full sleeves and a cathedral train. Her scalloped, full-length triple veil of antique peau d'ange lace was held in place by a tiny seed-pearl-embroidered crown. She carried a Victorian nosegay bouquet of white roses, orange blossoms and white heather.

Mrs. Zalmon Pober of Framingham was the matron of honor. She wore a pink and white silk organza Empire-style gown, topped by a matching Dior bow. Her bouquet also was a Victorian nosegay, but of pink roses and pink

Timothy Gillingham of Andover, was the best man. Ushers were Donald Bowie, Rye Beach; John Ebert, Cambridge; Peter Hitt, Cohasset; Nathaniel Stevens, North Andover; Arthur Sullivan, Lowell; and David Trull, Tewksbury.

A garden reception for five hundred guests was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents at Little Boar's Head, N.H. Mrs. John S. Sullivan of Andover presented the guest book. Mrs. Albert Sados, Portsmouth, assisted in cutting the cake. White roses, gladioli and evergreen garlands decorated the pink refreshment tent. Mr. Richard Gremlitz of Dover played the organ during the reception.

For her going away costume, the bride wore an Emilio Pucci silk ensemble of matching coat and dress in shades of yellow, chartreuse and pale orange. Following a wedding trip to Greece, the couple will make their home at 409 Beacon St., Boston.

The bride is enrolled in the Boston University Graduate School of Social work, and was educated at National Cathedral School, Washington, D.C. and Bennington College, Bennington, Vt. Mr. McCabe will enter the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration. He was graduated from the Pike School, Phillips Academy at Andover and Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

Some learn from experience—others never recover from it.

Please . . . DON'T RUN OVER MY LITTLE GIRL!

"A few weeks ago I saw a little girl struck by a car as she tried to cross the street. I saw a father race toward her and hold her to him as she struggled in the agony of death. I saw the look of despair that came over his face. I could only offer a prayer that such a thing might never happen again.

"Today my daughter, who is six years old, started off to school. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is 'Scoot', watched her leave and whined his belief in the folly of education.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, a girl with yellow curls, and about the boy across the aisle who makes faces; about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head; about the trees in the school yard, and the big girl who does not believe in Santa Claus.

"We talked about a lot of things, some important, some unimportant.

"Now, as this is being written, she is sound asleep with her doll 'paddy' in her arms.

"When her doll gets broken, or her finger gets cut, or her head gets bumped I can fix them. But when she starts to cross the street, then Mr. & Mrs. Driver, she is in your hands.

"Much as I wish I could, it's not possible for me to be with her all the time. I have to work and pay for her home, her clothes and her education.

"So, Mr. & Mrs. Driver, please help me to look out for her. Please drive carefully. Please drive slowly past schools and at intersections. And please remember that sometimes children run from behind parked cars.

"Please don't run over my little girl."

Featured on the first program, Sept. 8, will be the "Pirates" a comedy quartet from Beverly. The chorus was organized in 1961 at the Andover Plant of Raytheon under the auspices of the Employee's Activities Association and then branched out to become affiliated with the International Barbershop Group.

The Organization has planned a series of three special weekly meetings beginning on Monday, Sept. 8 to introduce new members to this type of harmony. The meetings are held every Monday at 8 p.m. at the Free Christian Church, Elm Street. Men interested in choral singing are urged to attend or to contact Eugene Hand, 75 Central St.

For Paints Try T. J. Scanlon's

This is an ideal time of year to have your home painted, and you can do it for less than you dreamed possible by taking advantage of the special offer now being made by the T. J. Scanlon Company, corner of Essex Street and Broadway in Lawrence. Your home will be painted for less than half of what you would normally pay, including both paint and labor.

The secret is in the process - "Hydraposit" the biggest boon of the century for home owners on a tight budget. It is so fast and economical, it's almost unbelievable.
Scanlon's Hydraposit man moves in with his compact, portable equipment and in one day the job is done. The Hydraposit disperses paint so fast, so evenly, so smoothly and so solidly that only a few hours of labor are needed compared to days by any other method. Best of all, one coat deposited by Scanlon's professional Hydraposit applicator is 2-1/2 times as thick as a brush coat, so you're really getting the equivalent of a 2 coat job.

Don't wait until hundreds of jobs are scheduled before yours.
Phone T. J. Scanlon's and make your appointment now. You simply buy your Sapolin Latex house paint from Scanlon's at $6.49 a gallon and pay the painter $8 a gallon for every gallon he uses on your hours.
Any extra gallons purchased may be returned to the store for a refund.

T. J. Scanlon's also features the complete Scotts Lawn Program for fall, the naturally right time to improve your lawn. Try a bag of Turf Builder, America's favorite fertilizer that makes grass multiply itself. Or try Scotts Turf Builder Plus 2, the grass fertilizer that also clears out 17 kinds of weeds, now offered at $2 off the 10,000 sq. ft. bag, regularly $14.95, now $12.95.

Again this year T. J. Scanlon's will have a truckload sale on foil-faced fiberglass Johns Mansville insulation, special for home handy-men. Watch for it in a couple of weeks. T. J. Scanlon's is open Tues. and Fri. til 9, Park free at the West Side parking lot.

OPENING ANNOUNCED. Construction moves along rapidly on the new Raytheon building off Lowell Street near Route 93. Officials of the firm announced last week that the building will be partially occupied and in operation hopefully by December. This is the first stage of a major construction project by the company.

Evening Courses Set At Merrimack

Desirous of serving the entire community of the Essex and Middlesex Counties, Merrimack College will once again offer evening classes from Sept. through May.

This program dates from 1949 and produced its first graduate in 1952. The evening sessions or part-time program according to its director, Thomas P. Hogan, has grown rapidly in acceptance and quality so that last year 765 area residents enrolled in the part-time division with 59 students earning either bachelor or associate degrees.

Prospective students in the evening sessions can earn credits in the arts, business administration, social sciences, and engineering toward a degree program or for further knowledge on a collegiate level. These credits may be applied toward bachelor degrees in business administration and industrial engineering or toward associate degrees in business administration and electrical engineering.

Registration for the coming fall term in the part-time division at Merrimack College will be held at the Student Union Building from Sept. 8-10 from 8 to 9 p.m. Prospective students are advised to have an interview prior to registration. For information on interviews, courses offered, course description, and other matters to the evening sessions, telephone or write director, part-time division, Merrimack College, North Andover.

westerns, mysteries and science fiction.

"It isn't true that no one reads westerns anymore. If they are displayed, borrowers will take them," she says.

"Some westerns are just as good 'who-dunnits' as detective stories. It doesn't make any difference if the sleuth is a Texas Ranger or a New York detective."

The Washington Post rated Miss Bold as a recognized authority on westerns.

As a college undergraduate, Miss Bold intended to study archaeology or history, but the summer job she accepted in Falls Church was the turning point.

"The director there changed my mind," she says.

Miss Bold is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Bold of Falls Church.

In Andover, the new librarian lives at the Lincolnshire Apartments, 22 Hidden Road.
